

Mipassion Newsletter 20th October, 2023

Hello

As you may be aware, I have many tools in my tool kit of life, and I would like to share one I have found recently with you .

As a result of an injury 18 years ago, my pain had escalated to where I needed to have a tablet to get to work.

If you know me well, then you will know that goes against the grain for me.

I am happy to say that in the last 5 weeks I have not needed a tablet and people who I am sharing this amazing device with are having similar benefits.

Please have a look at the link by clicking here and you may see what has got me just a little excited

Look at some of my results after just 4 weeks -

1. For me - I have a very strong sensitivity to light. I didn't like wanding my face to begin with as even though I had my eyes shut I could still see the blue light. Now I don't see it, I love wanding my face , and we were having lunch outside 2 days ago and no runny sore eyes. Whoohoo !!
2. I can now kneel on my sore left knee with my right leg bent. (and get back up)
This is a first for 18 years !!
3. I find it easier to move when I have been sitting for some time and getting in and out of the car.
4. My skin is looking softer and lighter and some lines around my eyes are beginning to soften .
5. I want to drink more water (which is always a bonus for me)
6. In the winter my lower back is always really cold. You may have noticed that I always take a wrap of some kind with me where ever I go. With daily wanding it seems my bones are heating up and I am staying warm :)
7. I recently walked up to the shops in my home town without having to stop and huff n puff so my increased mobility is helping with my fitness levels .
As a result of watching some of the results with some of our friends and those at health expos we have attended, I have fallen in love with the iTeraCare wand and I have decided to become an affiliate with the company .

If you wish to know more, can I tell you there is a huge give away until the end of October with each purchase. ??
